Description

Gilmar presents this magnificent detached villa located in the Mojadillas development in Valdemorillo. Situated on Calle Dalias, this impressive property built in 2001 sits on an exceptional 2,500-square-meter plot, offering a sanctuary of absolute privacy and an unparalleled connection with the natural surroundings characteristic of Madrid's northwest region. Spanning 345 square meters of built area, the residence stands out for its architectural solidity, its exposed brick façade, and a layout designed to maximize space and comfort throughout every room.

Access to the property reveals a mature garden surrounding the house, providing a sense of freedom and space that is rare to find. The main floor is centered around a generously sized living room where natural light takes center stage and a fireplace with a cassette insert adds warmth to the atmosphere. On this same level, there is a fully equipped independent kitchen, a guest powder room, and an additional room that offers the necessary versatility to be used as an office or guest bedroom, facilitating single-level living if so desired.

The sleeping quarters are distributed between the first floor and the attic. On the first level, we find the primary bedroom conceived as a luxury suite, which includes a private walk-in closet and a full bathroom with a bathtub. Two additional large bedrooms and a second shared bathroom complete this floor. For its part, the attic is presented as a singular and cozy space that houses an especially spacious bedroom and a full bathroom equipped with both a bathtub and a shower, forming an ideal retreat to enjoy peace under its vaulted ceilings.

One of the greatest attractions of this property lies in its basement level, which has been projected as a completely independent living space. This area features its own living room, kitchen, bathroom, and two bedrooms, one of which is also en-suite. Although the structure and layout are already defined, this area requires the finishing touches on its installations and fixtures, allowing the new owner to fully customize this autonomous apartment—perfect for family members, staff, or as a high-end leisure area.

The home boasts top-tier features that ensure constant well-being, most notably the underfloor heating system and air conditioning with a hot and cold pump. Its location is strategic, situated just minutes from the M-600 with immediate access to the services of the El Alcor area, where supermarkets, pharmacies, and shopping centers are located, perfectly combining the serenity of country living with the convenience of having all necessities just a step away from home.
