Description

Spectacular penthouse duplex located in one of the most exclusive and established areas of the Costa del Sol—Torrequebrada, a prestigious enclave sought after by those who value space, privacy, exclusivity, and exceptional quality in construction and design.

This truly unique property offers 497 m² of built space distributed across two independent floors and features a standout luxury from the first moment you enter: a private elevator with direct access to the home, providing an extraordinary level of comfort, security, and privacy.

The property impresses with its generous dimensions, magnificent proportions, and, above all, the extraordinary quality of its materials and finishes. Every detail has been meticulously designed and executed with exclusivity in mind, blending timeless elegance, craftsmanship, and top-tier materials. Among the standout features are Cascais marble throughout, custom wood interior carpentry, bespoke doors imported directly from Italy, and a carefully curated selection of handcrafted furnishings from Thailand and Indonesia. These elements, along with numerous design details, make this residence absolutely one of a kind.

The layout includes five spacious bedrooms, three bathrooms, and a spectacular terrace of approximately 160 m², offering endless possibilities for enjoying the privileged Costa del Sol climate. This expansive outdoor area allows for the creation of various relaxation, entertaining, and leisure spaces. The property is located in a well-established community featuring a communal swimming pool and also includes a garage space and a storage room, making this home especially rare, given its size, privacy, and amenities.

Its southeast orientation, open layout, and climate control systems for both heating and cooling contribute to making this home comfortable year-round. Both the property and the building are in excellent condition, perfectly complementing the high level of this exclusive residence. This is a home designed for the discerning buyer who values the extraordinary: generous spaces, independence, noble materials, artisanal pieces, thoughtful design, privacy, and a prime location. This is not your conventional penthouse—it's an elevated living experience closer to residing in a private home, with the convenience and security that come with a high-level property.
